The authors wish to thank all those who contributed to the betterment of the first edition of this book. To those who have rendered assistance with this edition we are greatly indebted, in particular to Leo Kärkkäinen, whose help has been especially pertinent, to Noel Lobo for his invaluable guidance in numerical matters, to Enrico Pascucci for his many helpful suggestions regarding Chapter 8 and for performing anechoic measurements, to Philip Trevelyan for his support and assistance in acoustical measurements, and to Rory Stoney for providing impedance tube measurements on absorbent materials in a very short time. We also stand indebted to our wives, Anne Mellow and Gabriella Beranek for their support and enduring patience.
